

Thursday December 1st, 2011

Spending on construction projects increased by 0.8% in October, according to the Commerce Department. It was the third consecutive monthly expansion, although overall construction in the first 10 months of this year is almost 3% below the spending in 2010.